The Quick Summary

The only digital product that introduces property owners to the cost savings available to them through green energy financial incentive programs.

Property owners spend tens of billions of dollars on green practices and products each year, including energy-efficient lighting, appliances, air conditioning, water conserving fixtures and solar energy products, but statistics show 60% of green incentives are ignored or under-utilized.

The Quick Summary report provides a high-level overview of financial incentives offered in a specific property's geographic area. If a property owner renovates a residential or commercial property and includes any of the green practices or products listed in the report, the property owner could be eligible for cost-saving incentives.

The digital report is designed to pair with loan product marketing materials. Its low price point allows lenders to use it as a value-added marketing tool.

New Vista Solutions & Incentifind — A Partnership to Benefit Property Owners and Mortgage Lenders

New Vista Solutions has been providing settlement services products to mortgage lenders since 2007. You can learn more about New Vista's settlement solutions at newvistasolutions.com.

Incentifind houses and maintains the Nation's only comprehensive database of financial incentives available to property owners who construct or renovate property that includes installation of energy-efficient products and materials.

New Vista Solutions has partnered with Incentifind to introduce a suite of products and services designed to help property owners take advantage of the financial incentives available to them (featuring The Green Report) — and they have created The Quick Summary to help lenders market loan products to prospective borrowers who could benefit from green incentives but might not be aware they exist.
